by this time you have heard often enough against 12,183 quarters at 49s 2d for the that the approaching electing in Utah will be the most important in its history. This is probably true, but somewhat strangely the nearer we get to it the less interest is manifested in it. Perhaps this arises from the foregone conclusion that none of the results anticipated to grow out of it will be realized. Of course all the polygamists in office step-down and out, but what then? That does not give the offices to the non-Mormons. The monogamic Mormons are so greatly in the majority that they still claim every county, and as the men they have sulect-ed for their banner bearers are mostly young men—sons of their father—with no particular record which can be handled to their disadvantage, and with hosts of sympathetic acquaintances who want to see the boys show themselves, it is a difficult matter to fight them; and in some districts it is thought there will probably be no opposition to the Mor-mon ticket, or to the people's party, as it is locally termed. We do not have republicans or democrats here, but the liberal deaths among the children, we would (anti-Mormon) and the people's (Mozmon) strongly antagonized them they are almost compelled to be democrats, though these latter scarcely feel delighted at being honored with their friendship. There are five of the Mormon breth-ren now in the toils of the law for over much marrying. All are now out on bail awaiting developments or trial. Due, the florist, was unable to obtain bail for some months, during which time he was con-fined in the Utah penitentiary. Now the "pen" is none of your model prisons, but a ten-acre barren lot walled and guarded, number of deaths among children, es- wherein the prisoners convicted or unpecially in summer months, which is the convicted are all herded together by day, Hong Kong, July 23.—The Chinese most dangerous time for children. Sometimes he would be found rejoicing in a complete summer undress-with him it was compulsory, for his dear companions in their innocent amusement had hidden his apparel, possibly ever since morning. At other times he might be seen chasing them around the yard, endeavoring to regain articles just filched from his pockets. Again he would be discovered, strenuously endeavoring to win their wayward affections by feeding them candy—this was a complete success, whilst the candy lasted, but a melancholy failure as soon as its sweetness had passed from their lips. polygamists remain in durance vile, Belle Harris is still a prisoner for refusing to tell the grand jury who is the father of her baby. Of course it is supposed that it is a polygamic baby; but, as she won't tell, nobody else is quite certain. It is a mistake to fancy that good is being done by keeping this woman in prison, she claims she is fighting for her rights on constitutional grounds, and. as may be imagined, her co-religionists all back her up, and then a young, good looking, intelligent woman with a sick baby is 7. The sufferers from the late fire in this city are beginning to rebuild. It is believed all will be able to keep their feet. The conflagration, though a calamity to them individually, will be a benefit to the city, as finer structures will take the place of those destroyed, and an additional block of stores will also be erected, facing the Temple block. It is understood that the Mormon authorities will restore the council house as it was before he fire. It was one of the oldest, if not the oldest public building in Salt Lake City, and as such had many very interesting associations. Next Tuesday is the territorial natal day, a local Fourth of July We cele-brate the day by a balloon ascension, base ball match, numerous excursions, and two juvenile concerts in the large tabernacle. At these concerts we are promised between eleven and twelve hunired children's voices, quite a gathering of trained youthful choristers in a city of our size. We anticipate that it will be a huge success.
